

cell phones should be on planes, but only for exclusive use by the flight attendants and in an emergency situation only. They should not be used by any and all passengers any time they wish. It's like smoking, they can do without it for a while.